MAGIC CHEF

Hollywood Reporter

By Mike Connolly

Mike's Thursday Mailbag
Dear Mike: Did Dinah Shore acquire any new children with her new husband Maurice Smith ("Smitty")?—Geraldine Beach, Danville, Va.

Dear Geraldine: Smitty has two children by his former marriage. —Dexter, 12, and Dana, 5. Dinah's are Melissa, 15, and John David, 10.

Dear Mr. Connolly: Who do you consider the 10 really all-time great stars of today?—Eileen Hogan, Madera, Calif.

Dear Eileen: From every angle — boxoffice-wise, glamour-wise, popularity-wise and all the other wises — I would say they are Liz Taylor, Rock Hudson, Doris Day, John Wayne, Frank Sinatra, Elvis Presley, Jerry Lewis, Sophia Loren, Brigitte Bardot, and Bob Hope.

Dear Mr. Connolly: Do you know what Ingrid Bergman's present address is? I wanted to write to her and find out when she is coming back to the U.S.A. She has always been my favorite movie star.—Brent H. Alford, Pasadena, Calif.

Dear Brent: Write to her at La Grange-Aux-Molines, Chevreuse, France. Be sure to address the letter to Mrs. Lars Schmidt, her married name.

Sir: How many letters do I have to write before you publish a reply in your column? Or does every letter you print have to be about Liz Taylor, Richard Burton or Shirley MacLaine? What's the answer? — E. A. Maher, Little Falls, Minn.

Dear E. A.: What's the question?
Dear Mike: I often get the feeling in reading some of the Hollywood columnists, that some of you consider yourselves as important as the stars. I think columnists should quit worrying about themselves and start writing about the people I want to read about — the stars. — Peggy Rotman, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Dear Peggy: I haven't noticed any particular trend in that direction but, if true for some of us perhaps you should blame in on the kookie characters we encounter while covering the world's kookiest beat — some of it HAS to rub off!

Dear Mike: As a great fan of Lawrence Welk, I understand why he allows Barbara Boylan to hog the camera when she's on. She is a good dancer. The Lennon Sisters, who are also on the show, also have wonderful talents, and they don't push themselves on! — A Grandmother, Oaklyn, N.J.

Dear Granny: You have a great talent too, for writing between the lines. But don't blame Barbara for being on too much. It's the director who decides how long each act will be on.

Dear Mike: Do beauty contest winners ever make the star-dom bit? I don't mean talent contest winners, I mean beauty contest winners. Most of them can't act their way out of a paper bag. — Dale Stevens, Whitman, Mass.

Dear Dale: O, I dunno. How about Shirley Jones, Gail Patrick, Ann Sheridan and Paula Prentiss, each and every one a beauty contest winner and each a top talent?

Dear Sir: Whatever happened to David O. Selznick? — Dave Methven, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Dear Dave: He's still planning to produce a stage version of "Gone with the Wind." But he never has to work again — not with all those residuals rolling in from the re-runs of his old movies on TV. And he's still happily married, I might add, to Jennifer Jones.

Dear Mr. Connolly: Are all actors insecure? — Betty Miner, Brush, Colo.

Dear Betty: Only the ones who aren't good actors.

Dear Mike: Would you please settle a dollar bet for a friend and me? In that TV commercial for a menthol cigarette, in which two men are fishing from a small boat, is the fellow with the right brand Jess Barker (former husband of Susan Hayward) or Kenneth Tobey of "The Whirlybirds"? — Anna Meister, New York, N.Y.

Dear Anna: It stumps me, too. I tried to find out by writing to the agency that handles it — The Ted Bates Company, 666 Fifth Ave., New York 19, N. Y. Haven't heard yet. Since you live there, suggest you call the agency itself — and ask for Andy Bellenot. And good luck.
